

FAQs

1. The Iclif Leadership Energy Awards and Leadership Energy Summit Asia – what’s the connection?

The Iclif Leadership Energy Awards celebrate an unconventional new way of thinking about leadership. The awards draw together thought-leaders in the dynamic field of leadership energy, to celebrate leaders who live the principles of conviction, courage, and momentum.

The Leadership Energy Summit Asia is Asia’s premier conference on leadership energy. Now in its sixth year, the Summit deals exclusively with the art and science behind leadership energy, using neuroscience, spiritual philosophy, psychology and management theory. An inspiring panel of speakers from business, media, philanthropy and science share their stories of triumph over adversity, and discuss what fuels their passion for positive change.

2. Who is eligible for these awards?

We seek nominations for leaders in Asia working in one of the following categories:

- Corporate employee ((Individual/team)
- Business owner/founder
- Social enterprise owner/founder

These leaders should be those who have demonstrated their commitment to creating a better future through sustainable and values-driven ‘leadership energy’; and resulted in positive transformation and impact in their team, organisation or community.

3. Who can nominate?

Nominations from colleagues, managers, human resource directors/personnel, friends or other individuals well acquainted with the nominated party, and who can attest to their qualifications. Self-nomination is also allowed.

4. How are nominations submitted?

Nominations must be submitted electronically at <https://iclif.org/ilea-form/> by 11.59pm Malaysia time, July 31, 2018.

5. Can a nominator submit more than one nominee?

Yes. Each nominee is evaluated and selected separately.

6. Can a nominee have more than one nominator?

Yes. Iclif accepts multiple nominations for the same nominee. However, it does not impact on judging process.

7. Do nominators need to submit references for the nominee?

Upon shortlisting, the nominator/referee may be contacted to provide referee details to Iclif in order to obtain further information and validation.

8. How are the award winners selected?

The award winners are selected by an independent panel of judges.

9. Will the nominee be updated on the status of the nomination?

Shortlisted and finalist will be notified.

10. When will the announcement of award recipients take place?

Announcement of the winners will be made during LESA 2018 event on 15 November.
